Merignamo Ind's way between Milra and Lodi), June 9, Morning. —While Milian was still in frenty of joy at the arrival of two allied Sovereigus, this place was the scene of a charp combat with the Austrian rear guard, which had occapied and fortified this large town with a considerable force, intending to gain time for the retreat of their army and baggage from Paria to Lodi, and across the Adda. This time it was the first corps of Marshal Barsguary Pillillers which had its turn. Three divisions of it—Basine's, Forcy's, and l'Amirault's—had left the neighborhood of Milan only yesterday morning, to advance on the high road in the direction of Lodi, while other troops went in different directions to gain the Adda, and than to cut off, if possible, some of the Anastrian troops.

The three columns advanced. The halted on the road to cook their coeffee, which is to the French moldier what grog is to the English. After a short rest on they went again, until at five o'clocke, P. M.,
